

USP-HU Strategic Partnership Initiatives: Joint Call for Seed Funding

Goal

The Universidade de São Paulo (USP) and the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin (HU) make a call for joint research projects, in order to promote and reinforce the academic and scientific cooperation between both institutions, in areas of common interest.

The aim of this call is to provide seed funding, for the construction of joint projects in all areas of research, implying at least one research team from USP and one research team from HU. Interdisciplinary research is encouraged.

Funding

The total amount of funding dedicated to the present call is 50 000 euros from HU and an equivalent amount from USP. Each project should have two team leaders one from USP and one from HU. The team leaders will submit the same project to the scientific coordinator of their home university.

The approved projects will receive the equivalent of up to 20 000 euros (in total from both sides) and they will last two years. A detailed budget must be provided in an addendum mutually accepted by the parties. Funds from each partner shall be spent for the expenses of its own academics, and expenses shall be restricted to be spent for air tickets, per diems and health insurance. Each Party will fund its researchers in the collaboration based on its funding rules.

Selection Process

USP and HU will each set up an ad-hoc committee for the selection of the submitted proposals. Each committee is under the responsibility of the scientific coordinator (Prof. Raul Machado Neto for USP and Prof. Dr. Jan-Hendrik Olbertz for HU). Selection criteria are consistent with the call's objectives stated in the section 1 of the Memorandum of Strategic Partnership. The bilateral Governance Committee should meet in person or using long distance and video conferencing technology once a year (in alternate locations, if in person).

The final decision will be made jointly.

Selection criteria

Further relevant criteria applied in the selection process are the following:

- Scientific quality and innovativeness of the research project;
- Potential for acquiring additional funds;
- Feasibility of the research plan;
- Proportion of the budgetary plan with regard to project plan;
- Competence and expertise of the researchers or research teams.

Obligations

Successful applicants are required to follow the proposed project and to submit a two to three pages final report no later than one month after the end of the grant period. Periodic status updates on the progress of the project may be requested, depending on the planned length of the project.
